Starbuck Equestrian is now accepting registrations for our seven week riding program. The riding academy is the only equestrian program in New England which has use of four individual Olympic riding arenas for their entry level programs, of which two are heated indoor arenas for colder weather. The farm provides one of the safest and quietest environments for both children and adults to learn about the wonderful world of horses. Parents and families are welcome to watch lessons in two heated viewing rooms attached to the indoor arenas.

The fun, very closely supervised, hour of riding is taught in a small group class. Teaching the classes are four outstanding horseback riders from the area. Kathy Fogg, Karen Scoralick, Kara Mikhitarian, and Rachel Knoche have teamed up for another season of equestrian pursuits with exciting lessons planned for all of the students. We also offer lesson for students three to six years of age.

Lessons are available seven days a week for all riding levels. Starbuck Equestrian offers three different options for lessons: A "group" lesson contains three to six students and lasts for one hour. Riders are placed in beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate, and advanced groups, depending on their riding experience. The seven-week "group" riding program cost is $400. Starbuck Equestrian also offers "semi-private" lessons in which two students ride together for one hour. Riders are paired by similar riding abilities and goals and the seven-week program for each student is $525, a total of $1,050. Finally, Starbuck Equestrian offers "private" lessons where a student takes a lesson one on one with an instructor. The student has an option of a half hour or a full hour of riding time. The cost of a half hour "private" for the seven-week program is $525 and for an hour "private" seven-week program is $1,050. Our Summer Session is 10 weeks long and is $570 for "group" lessons and $750 for "privates." If you would like further information, please call Starbuck Equestrian at (203) 438-7749.
